CONTRACT & GRANT FUNDING SOURCES

1. State of California
   State of California sources are appropriated by the Legislature for special research projects or received under contracts with State agencies. State sources for general operating purposes are not included as they are classified with other Current Unrestricted Funds, e.g. Fund 19900.

2. United States of America
   United States of America sources are from Federal agency projects and programs. A major portion of these sources are used for research contracts and grants. Also, a large amount is used for Federal student aid programs.

3. Local Governments
   Local government sources include cities, counties, school districts, etc.

4. Private
   Private sources are nongovernmental which are given for a variety purposes through a written agreement. The support is considered a contract or grant when it includes requirements such as a specified period of performance; a stipulation that funds unexpended at the end of that period shall be returned to the source; a specific scope of work statement to be followed; the reporting of expenses incurred on the project; maintenance of auditable financial records; disposition of intellectual property rights; or other conditions or obligations required of the University in order to receive the funds.
